Multi-function medical devices provide value for clinical, educational environments...

KNIGHT EDUCATIONAL PRODUCTS OFFERS STETHOSCOPE/BLOOD PRESSURE CUFF COMBINATION KITS

DALLAS, TX (January 17, 2008) – Knight Educational Products, a global manufacturer and supplier of medical and educational training equipment, has developed a deluxe stethoscope and blood pressure cuff combination kit for healthcare and educational professionals. Designated the CM-2500, the kit contains a Sprague Rappaport stethoscope and blood pressure cuff in a heavy-duty nylon carrying case with accessories.

“The low-cost, multi-functional stethoscope and blood pressure cuff kits offer value and convenience for all clinical and educational environments and are specifically designed for allied health and medical programs,” said David Luna, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Knight Educational Products.

The CM-2500 combination kits contain accessories including an adjustable manometer calibrated from 20-300mmHg with non-stop pin, velcro nylon cuff, an adjustable screwdriver and a dual head stethoscope design.
